

Same Old, Same Old—No Party For Cao Dong 2018 Tour

Facebook | | Instagram | | Twitter | | YouTube | | Weibo

Same old liquor, same old sea.

Same old story, same old dream.

The waters came and went, bringing us together again.

Change may come with time, yet our voices remain the same.

一如往常, 酩酊大夢。

一如往常, 自始至終。

草東沒有派對 2018 《如常》 巡迴

Currently formed by Wood Lin (vocals/guitar), Chu Chu (vocals/guitar), Sam Yang (vocals/bass) and Fan Tsai (drums), No Party For Cao Dong (NPCD) broke into Taiwan's indie rock scene in 2015. In February 2016, they dropped their debut album—The Servile—a record of grief, love, justice and helplessness that was felt among a generation of Taiwan's youth, playing over rebellious electric guitars and sardonic disco grunge. Their music forms a mirror of the punk-grunge spirit they embody.

Within a month, 8 shows in 7 cities on the album's supporting tour were sold out. Their first ever international tour—Surging, Winter MMXVI Tour—ended on a successful note as they conquered 17 cities across the US, Taiwan and China with 18 sold-out shows. The Servile sold 16,000+ physical albums and was streamed over 7 million times on Spotify by mid-2017.