Master in Global Entrepreneurial Management (MGEM)
College of Management, Fu Jen Catholic University

The College of Management of Fu Jen Catholic University, the IQS Business School of Universitat Ramon Llull, and the School of Management of University of San Francisco are AACSB accredited academic institutions in Asia, Europe, and America respectively. With global recognition for their teaching quality and research capabilities, their credits and programs are recognized by all AACSB accredited universities. As the international society is changing rapidly, MGEM has gathered the elites from different parts of the world and offered them programs taught in English to cultivate their creativity, innovative thinking, and entrepreneurship. Through their visits to multinational corporations around globe, students are given the opportunities to network with international and professional talents. After the graduation, they will receive a master degree issued by the University of San Francisco and accredited by the Fu Jen Catholic University and the Universitat Ramon Llull.

■ Program ■

Within a year, students engage in an innovative, creative, entrepreneurial and international business environment through the joint-program offered by the College of Manage of Fu Jen Catholic University, the IQS Business School of Universitat Ramon Llull, and the School of Management of University of San Francisco. Compared with other similar academic institute, MGEM has special features as follows:

Obtain a Master Degree Accredited by 3 Universities within a Year

After completing all of academic requirement within a year, international students that apply and are admitted to the MGEM will obtain a master degree issued by the University of San Francisco and also accredited by Fu Jen Catholic University and Universitat Ramon Llull.

Develop Global Vision and Build International Connections

MGEM gathers all elite students from different cultural background in the same program. With the seminars, courses, internships and corporate visits tailored by the three academic institutions, students are given the opportunities to network with business people and administrators worldwide and exposed to both global perspectives and regional cultures.

Establish Creative, Innovative Spirit and Entrepreneurship

With dual emphasis on theory and practice, students can sharpen their innovative spirit and cultivate ideas in Spain; master the intricacies of supply chain and market analysis in Taiwan; and synthesize all the required knowledge in USA. Based on this arrangement, students will become creative entrepreneurs and will have management skills.

Boost Career Span and Get a Good Job

The University of San Francisco is famous for students' career consulting. Many famous CEOs in Asia are from Fu Jen Catholic University and USF. By joining MGEM, students will receive a superior education that puts them on path to professional success and plots their dream jobs.
